Traveling Crochet

Project purpose - impact.
What you want to do next.

The work of international, intergenerational Dreamweavers to create a quilt with crocheted squares made by youth and elders in Tampa, Florida and Africa.

“Crochet is a project that many people enjoy, and which has many benefits: inexpensive, mentally calming, easy way to be around people without needing to talk, easy to ask for help, people relax, trust develops, youth learn a lifelong skill, relatively short learning curve – basics in a few days and ongoing learning by leaps and bounds...”

Museum in Sulphur Springs, Tampa, Florida

Sulphur Springs water tower and surrounding community resources are a symbol of hope, potential, and youthful renewal.

“I ventured out into the community that is home to the museum that I will begin working at soon. I wanted to explore some important places in the community.

I need to discover what is unique about Sulphur Springs so that I will be able to create exhibits and programs that support the museum’s mission and are relevant to visitor’s interests.

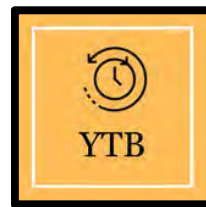

The Sulphur Springs water tower stands as a key landmark that symbolizes the vibrant history of the area. I hope to engage youth in the community in a project using PhotoVoice.”

Home Repair Help for Seniors

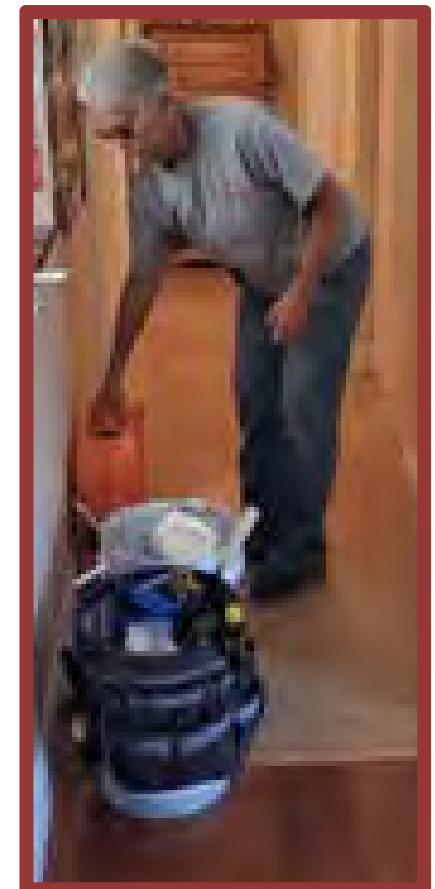

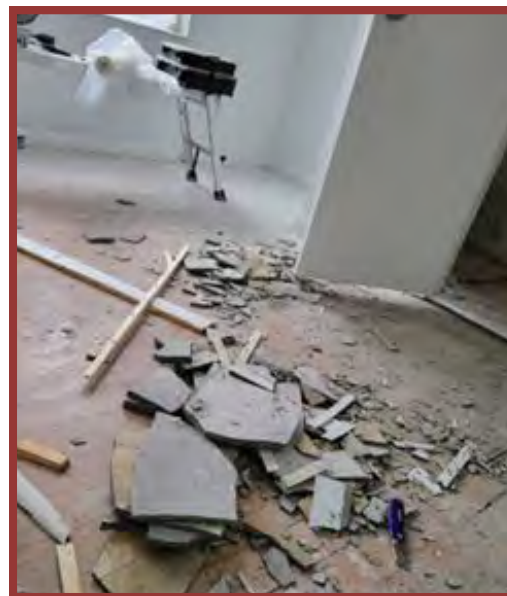

Less talk, more action, just do it!
These pictures show a match between the needs of the Florida retirement community to live safely at home and the opportunity for youth to practice valuable home repair skills.

“These photos show a common need or problem faced by senior citizens, particularly those living alone at home who need help with repairs.

We think that Home Repair Help for Seniors may serve a fundamental need like Repair Cafes, Public Living Rooms, and Human Libraries.”
